DR. PERSON As N.P. Graduate, 1920

dedication

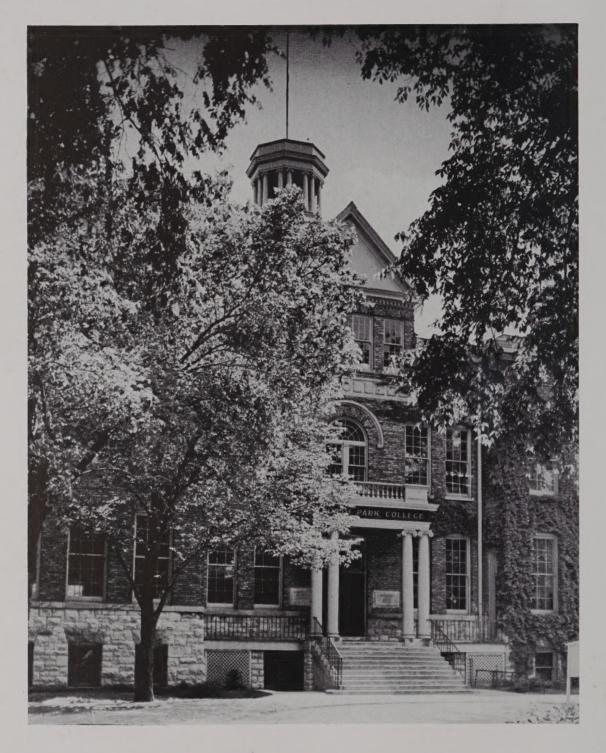

This, the fortieth annual volume of the Cupola, is cordially dedicated to a man who this year can look back upon a span of thirty-five years as a teacher at North Park. His constant devotion to the ideals of Christian education, his amiable interest in young people, and his fervent desire to aid his students in their intellectual and spiritual development has thus for more than a third of a century enriched the aspirations and endeavors of North Park. From 1920, when he was the editor of the Cupola, through the years from 1921, when he joined the faculty, to this thirty-fifth anniversary, he has been of great inspiration and blessing to generations of North Parkers. Therefore the 1956 Cupola is respectfully dedicated to Peter P. Person.

board of education . .

The Board of Education of North Park College presided over by Irving Lambert, chairman, consists of eighteen members. Fifteen are elected by the Annual Conference of the Evangelical Mission Covenant Church of America, two are ex-officio, and one a liason member representing the Covenant Executive Board. Representing various walks of life, these people bring to their quarterly meetings the variety of experience and depth of insight that are necessary in making the decisions of policy governing our school.

president

Clarence A. Nelson

To the Class of 1956:

Your brief sojourn on our campus now terminates. You came to North Park from many directions. You leave just as diversely. For a while you have walked "the way" together. Now you strike out to continue your journey through life on paths you have never seen, — always going right on! New scenes will meet you, new friends greet you as you travel into the tomorrows. What adventures and what achievements await your coming, always adding new meaning to your life and purpose! In your future pilgrimage perhaps you will reach some plateaus where pausing briefly, you will look back on the way you have come and remember with delight the stretch of road you walked together as North Parkers. And you will know, as probably you never before surmised, how exhilerating for your Alma Mater were the days you were spending on her campus. For to you it was granted, in the Providence of God, to see your school come of age in many areas. You have seen the seminary reach greater maturity and the college raise its sights to a four-year program. You have seen the campus almost double in size, and a new dormitory for men assume its proud place of service. You have seen friends across the country unite enthusiastically and sacrificially, on an unprecedented scale, to make available to your school funds for new buildings. You have seen new life course through the veins of your school as it reached the good age of sixty-five years. All this, and more, you have lived with and walked with and it has become an inseparable part of your life story. You will retrace these steps often in after years, and always, please God, with a prayer of thanksgiving in your heart.

And now, the way stretches before you. Faculty and colleagues alike wave to you a loving "Godspeed," calling to you as you leave our campus the eternal words of our Lord, "I am the way, the truth, and the life." Walk in Him, and your last threshold will bring you to the Father and his mansions of light.

Your friend, Clarence A. Nelson, President

Yankee Club students hail from New England, New Jersey, and New York. One of its largest memberships, 30 students, enjoyed their first big project, the Homecoming float. The traditional "bean suppah" was held early in the Spring. Not only did the members function socially, but a large group of them went home for the Christmas holidays on the same train, reducing the fare rates.

Officers for the "Yanks" were Donald Iller, president; Richard Dahl, vice president; Betty Johnson, secretary; treasurer, Carol Christianson, and sponsor, E. Gustav Johnson.

The Middle East Club represented the tri-state area of New York, Ohio, and Pennsylvania. Twenty-four students from this area met early in the school year and elected Robert Nelson, president; Gordon Miller, vice-president; and Janet Baker, secretary-treasurer. Philip Liljengren was club advisor.

The first big undertaking was the construction of a float for Homecoming. This year the Yankee club joined with us on the float.

Social events included occasional Friday night "banquets" which were held during the dinner hour in Sohlberg Commons.

Among the many regional clubs on campus is the Michigan Club. At a "get acquainted" and organizational meeting Peter Djupe was elected President and Elaine Gustafson secretary-treasurer. Elder Lindahl and Theodore D. Johnson were the sponsors.

In the various activities of the year they took an active part. Bill Conant was named Homecoming chairman and directed operations in producing a campus stand.

Primarily a social club, the Illinois Club gathered to discuss their home state and plan activities. Work on the Homecoming float was the first major group activity. The highlight of the year was an outing at Covenant Harbor, Lake Geneva.

Those who led us through the year were Richard Pixler, president; Carole Roden, vice-president; Janet Lindblade, secretary; and Gordon Williams, treasurer.

The Minnesota Club, with more than seventy representatives at North Park from the "fair state," is one of the largest clubs on campus. The club is under the leadership of Stan Edin, president; LeRoy Carlson, vice president; Marcy Sheehan, secretary; and Barbara Carlson, treasurer.

Although the Minnesota Club did not do as well in the Homecoming decorations as they did the previous year, they were active in many other affairs. There was a party given for the prospective students from Minnehaha Academy in February, and in March a spring banquet was held. Other events included a bowling tournament and an early morning breakfast at LaBagh Woods.

Meetings were held following the devotional hour in the dining hall. These were very informal and usually were concluded with the singing of the "Rovsen."

Students hailing from the "Tall Corn State" enjoyed good times of fellowship this year through several informal parties. The Hawkeye Club's high point was a banquet held in the spring.

The officers for the year were president, Mary Palmquist; vice president, Evangeline Palmberg; and social chairman, Eunice Peterson. Vivadele Youngberg served as the club sponsor.

Midwest Club members claim Colorado, Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska as their home states.

The club activities began at homecoming time when the members decorated a float and participated in the parade. Several informal get-togethers were enjoyed by the Midwesterners under the leadership of the following officers: Leila Raulston, president; Claire Anderson, vice-president; and Doris Jean Bevan, secretary-treasurer. Miss Debora Carlson and Reynold Vann have served as sponsors.

The students from Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington officially organized into a club for the first time. The club got off to a good start by winning top prize on their first project — a homecoming float which was a replica of Mt. Rainier. Activities included a ski retreat at Christmas. Leading the club were Don Wahlquist, president; Gordon Johnson, vice president; Tim Olson, secretary; and Sherrill Engstrom, treasurer. Miss Margaret Peterson served as club sponsor.

The California Club met for its first meeting at the home of our sponsor, Dr. Green. There we elected officers for the year. Bob Nelson, president; Glen Carlson, vice-president; Marilyn Ahlem, secretary, and Darlene Tell, treasurer.

Soon it was time to plan for Homecoming. Adrienne Nelson was elected Homecoming chairman. She and those who helped her did an excellent job. California Club was to decorate the front of Nyvall Hall. Our theme was. "Your foul - Our game". We all enjoyed working on this project.

The Tridentians — Delta Upsilon Upsilon — was organized in 1946. Its purpose is that of providing a point of contact for off- and on-campus students for maintaining fellowship and good will.

Led by Ian Duncan, president; Clement Dippel, vice-president; and E. Gustav Johnson, advisor; a fine social program was developed. The annual entertainment: Twelfth Night Celebration and County Fair, was presented in January. This was quite a success. First semester activities also included the preparation and distribution of souvenir programs for Homecoming, and erecting a front lawn decoration.

The traditional Sports Night and participation in some campus programs are parts of the spring activities. All proceeds of the club's activities are devoted to the maintenance of its scholarship fund. A grant-in-aid was awarded to a worthy student for the first semester. Thus, in its tenth anniversary year as before, the club has tried to live up to its motto: Dum Vivimus Vivamus (While we live, let us live!)

burgh hall

A fair indication of North Park's growth since its beginnings, is the expansion of its men's dorms. In 1894 when Old Main was North Park, the 3rd floor served as housing for the men. In 1902 an alumnus, who was successful in gold mining operations in Alaska, sent the school a large donation. A new men's dorm was erected, and the inconvenient situation in Old Main of the fellows on 3rd floor bothering the classrooms below because of their stunts was no longer a problem. Later, this building also was needed for classrooms, and when, in 1940, the apartment building on Foster and Spaulding was purchased, the men moved once more. Our newest men's dorm, Burgh Hall in honor of J. Fredrick Burgh, was made possible because of a government loan. The erecting of this modern, four-story building is the newest sign of an ever expanding program.

cupola

The 1956 Cupola Staff surpassed all expectations of cooperation as each member fulfilled his responsibility. Just as in a modern assembly line, everyone played an important role in producing the final product.

The Editor Donald Iller, at the beginning of the school year, presented the idea of empolying the front campus sign in the cover design and book theme. The three Associate Editors, Faith Landerdahl, Shelley Sturdy, and Gordon Williams, took this basic idea and started developing the theme, continuity, and structure of the entire year book.

At the same time, Don, Stan Dahlstrom, and Rick Peterson were busy designing a cover that would convey meaning through the simplicity of modern design. They accomplished this, and the design was sent to the printer. The concepts of unity, simplicity, and modern trends were followed throughout the annual. Ralph Anderson, the Business Manager, began working on his sixteen pages of advertising at the very outset. The stage was set for a very enjoyable and profitable year for everyone involved.

The Editor coordinated the entire production and was continually on the move, making important contacts, working with the photographers, and keeping the faculty and printers happy. His three associates were more behind the scenes, working in close conjunction with him. They wrote most of the copy and assisted him with the "dummy sheets" and the "keying up" of photos, captions, and articles.

The first deadline was set with relative ease, but as the final deadline on March 15 was drawing closer, the "midnight oil" was burning in the Publications Office. There were still articles outstanding and pictures yet to be taken.

The final deadline was met and the editor and the entire Cupola Staff settled back, eagerly awaiting the fruit of many long and difficult weeks, . . . . . . the 1956 Cupola.

north park college news

The North Park College News successfuly completed its thirty-fifth year of accurately mirroring the daily life on the North Park campus this year.

During the year the News was active in promoting and improving various aspects of campus life. Accurate coverage of important and not-so-important happenings was the key word of the News staff. It gave the readers a detailed picture of Homecoming, the Tuesday Evenings series, Student Council projects, elections, parties, programs, athletic events and religious happenings on the campus.

Realizing that its duty also consisted in the expression of the opinions of both the minority and majority groups on campus, the News devoted considerable effort to the fostering of freer expression of ideas in its editorial columns.

As a part of its program to promote culture at North Park, the News conducted its second annual literary contest in the spring, with both prose and a poetry section.

The Letters-to-the-Editor column, the trials and woes of Dick Carlson's cartoon character "Kid Campus," and the various feature articles which appeared were other characteristics of the paper which contributed to its rapid disappearance from the campus distribution points every other Wednesday.

It took a lot of work to produce each edition of the News, and it-was only through the cooperation of every member of the staff with Editor John Jansson that the paper was successful. The assistance of the reporters, the editorial staff and the assistant editors and the willingness of everyone to put in many extra hours, often in the night, was the only means by which the News was able to maintain the high standards that readers have come to expect of it through the years.

The guidance of E. Gustav Johnson, the faculty advisor, proved invaluable during the course of the year, and the quiet, behind-the-scenes work of the Circulation and Business Departments did much to see that the necessary business in connection with a good paper was conducted.

fellowship

An oasis of spiritual refreshment in a busy week, the seven o'clock fellowship hour each Wednesday added new, meaningful aspects to our Christian life. It was a time for close kinship, with prayer, singing, testimony and meditation. Usually including only student participation, these meetings were arranged for by the Devotional Life Committee of the Religious Council, under the chairmanship of Rose Anderson. This year a faculty member spoke once a month in addition to the senior seminary men.

We look back to these meetings as a time in which the bonds of being a Christian and a North Parker were felt in a moving way.

In fulfilling its purpose of ministering to the spiritual needs of individual students through personal contacts and religious services, the Religious Council maintained a wide scope of activity. These included Christian Emphasis Week in October, the annual Julotta service, Missionary Emphasis Week in February and annual Holy Week services. A Prayer Conference was held at the beginning of the second semester. In addition the Council oversaw the gathering of funds for the support of our missionaries, the Ted Kellys.

Other less obvious functions were the planning of the fellowship services, the organizations of Gospel teams, and the instituting of dorm prayer meetings. A chapel service explaining the work of the Council was held early in the year. The Council policy was to discuss and evaluate the events to make suggestions for more future effectiveness.

This year's council was led by Faith Landerdahl, chairman; James Lindblade, vice-chairman; Jane Carlson, secretary; and Charles Meyer, treasurer. The committees which were a vital part of the Council's work were Publicity, chairmaned by Lois Bowman; New Projects, Jerry Johnson; Devotional Life, Rose Anderson; Student Meeting, David Dahlberg; and Expressional, Carolyn Wiberg. Chaplain Erickson advised the group.

At the beginning of the school year Gospel teams were formed under the leadership of the Student Meeting Committee of the Religious Council, led by David Dahlberg. These minister to churches and missions within a 200-mile radius of the college. Two teams, composed of College Choir members, continue into the summer with a nine-week tour of Covenant churches.

This year the Messengers, composed of Ralph Anderson, Ted Molen, Mary Ann Oliva, Mary Palmquist, and Sally Person, will travel in the Middlewest primarily through Minnesota and parts of Wisconsin, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Colorado, and Nebraska. One of the highlights of the trip will be the days spent at the Covenant Heights in the Rocky Mountains.

The Gospelaires are to serve in the Middle East with concerts extending through Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New York and Indiana, along with the privilege of a four-day stay at the Covenant Hi Congress at Mission Meadows Bible Camp in New York. The students comprising this group are Barbara Anderson, Chuck Anderson, Janet Baker, Marilyn Peterson and Jerry Young.

The concert program consists of vocal and instrumental numbers carried out in solos, duets, trios, and quartets. The students and the faculty advisor are responsible for speaking and for bringing North Park to the churches.

Along with the thrill and joyful anticipation of traveling and sightseeing is the unique opportunity of carrying not only the message of North Park, but most of all to testify of the wonderful salvation that Christ our Lord imparts.

The Y.M.C.A. is a very active organization which is open to all college girls. Its purpose is "to build a fellowship of women devoted to the task of realizing in our common life those ideals of personal and social living to which we are committed by our faith as Christians. In this endeavor we seek to understand Jesus, to share His love for all people, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

The "Y" meetings, which included movies, home talent, and outstanding speakers, were held monthly in the Caroline Hall Lounge. They sponsored this year a "Get-Acquainted Party" at the beginning of the year, when the new students met their "Big Sisters", a Fashion Show and the All-School Hayride in the fall, and Turnabout Weekend with a Turnabout Party in the spring. They also sold "Mums" at Homecoming.

The officers for this year were: president, Carole Roden; vice-president, Shirley Smith; secretary, Janice Erickson; and treasurer, Corinne Peterson. The sponsor is Mrs. Linnea Sandgren.

the play

The dates February 23, 24, and 25 are very eventful dates in the history of North Park College. For these were the dates that the first college play was given. The play, "The Curious Savage," was a delightful and refreshing comedy by John Patrick. It portrayed a group of people who live in one section of "The Cloisters," a mental home. These people all have in common the fact that they are living in a make-believe world.

The overwhelming success of the play can be attributed to all who worked very hard in making it so. The play was directed by Miss Betty J. Nelson. Those in the cast included Barbara Anderson, Doris

J. Bevan, John Eager, Sally Person, Jane Carlson, Kenneth Penhale, Lyle Rankin, Lynell Johnson, Shirley Smith, Tim Johnson, and Karen Hanson.

Working behind the scenes were Marilyn Freeman, general chairman, and David Johnson and Carroll Nyquist, producers. Chairmen of the committees were: Faith Landerdahl, publicity; Marge Bjorlin, finance; John Elmquist, properties; Marlene Mortenson, make-up; and Carroll Nyquist and David Johnson, stage.

The Student Council sponsored the play. It was held for three night in Hanson Hall Auditorium before capacity crowds. With such a successful first production we hope that this may become a tradition at North Park.

Functioning under a new system of student government, the student council experienced a year of successful major activities and attention to the details of student life.

The council was ably led by Tim Johnson and Nancy Hedstrom, who were elected president and vice-president last year in an all-school election. Jane Carlson and Herb Freedholm were elected by the council to serve as secretary and treasurer respectively. Much credit must also be given to Mr. P. J. Larson, the council's very cooperative advisor.

Two of the major events sponsored and planned by the council were Homecoming and the College Banquet. A new activity which enjoyed a large measure of success was the college play, The Curious Savage, given to capacity audiences on February 23, 24, and 25. In addition to these events, much time was spent in planning gym-jams, roller skating parties, elections, making arrangements for prospective students, and attending to the constant stream of services for the students and administration.

Much credit should be extended to the committee chairmen — Faith Landerdahl, homecoming; Sally Person, assembly; Marilyn Freeman and Chuck Meyer, social; Jim Lindblade, student lounge and prospective students; and Lloyd Larsen, publicity.

Meetings were held every other Wednesday night in Sohlberg Commons. The new seventeenmember council was able to function in a much more business-like and efficient fashion than under the old system of counselling representatives.

college banquet

The lovely memories that one recalls when the college banquet in April is mentioned, are many. Your favorite young lady in her sweeping formal . . . the many-hued corsages . . . the beautifully decorated room at Michigan Shores . . . the unforgetable singing of the Serenaders . . . the delightfully comic program of the ventrilloquist . . . the excitement of discovering the identity of the college notables . . .

The ones who helped in the arranging for your evening of memories were Shelley Sturdy, general chairman; Betty Lou Penhale, decorations chairman; Stanley Edin, program chairman; Lloyd Larsen, publicity chairman; and Dick Pixler, sales chairman. The work was done in cooperation with the Student Council.

The Gamma Eta Chapter was installed at North Park in 1935. The objects of the society are to promote scholarship, develop character, and cultivate fellowship among the students of the junior colleges.

To be eligible for membership a student must be of good moral character and possess recognized qualities of citizenship as judged by the faculty. At the time of election, he must be within the upper scholastic ten percent of the regularly enrolled student body of the college. The registrar's office submits the list of names made up on the basis of grade points. The Committee on Admissions and Academic Standing makes recommendations to the faculty for final action.

Phi Theta Kappa was incorporated as a national organization in 1918 in Missouri with eight colleges as charter members. The official publication is the Golden Key published five times a year.

Since Gamma Eta Chapter was established, 427 students have been elected to membership.

graduation

The Sophomores reached the culmination of two important years at North Park as they stepped across the platform to receive their diplomas on Commencement Day.

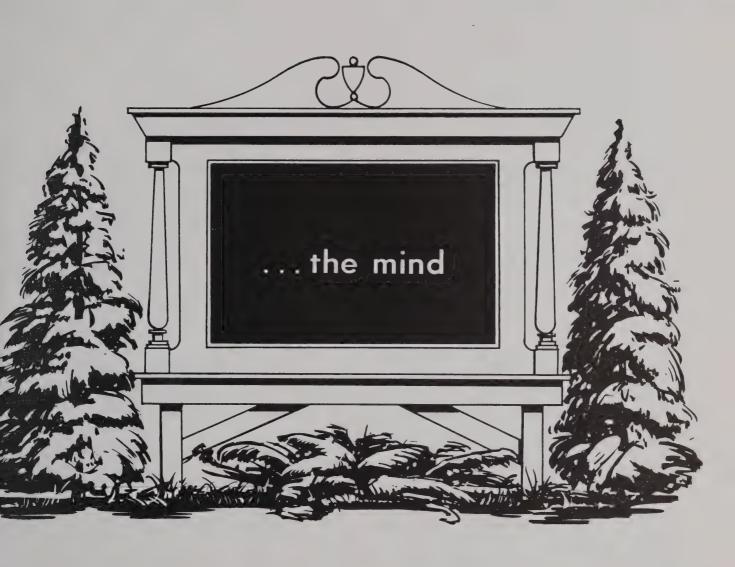

Graduation was not a climactic, final thing, but rather a threshold or a springboard to bigger and better things; the continuation of a course of study or the dawn of their outside world experiences. The basic foundation that they have received has been the result of four intertwined factors: the guidance of the administration, the intangible, ever-present campus spirit, the efforts of the faculty in helping to develop the students' potentialities, and the kinship created through dorm life, class rooms, and activities. The members of the graduating class have given impressions, but more important, they have received impressions which have made indelible marks on each life.

The last of May and the beginning of June was a hectic period for everyone. As if the studying and the taking of the final exams weren't enough, many students spent long, anxious hours wondering if they were going to be eligible to graduate. Aside from this, everyone was kept busy trying on caps and gowns, rehearsing, signing Cupolas, attending the President's Reception, and solidifying life-long friendships.

The front campus of North Park was the scene of an impressive Baccalaureate Service on June 10, and the Commencement Exercises the following morning. As the program came to a close, the graduates couldn't help but feel a lump in their throats, a feeling which subsided with the realization of the big opportunities that lay within reach.

organizations

Year after year North Park's theological students remember Seminary Forum as having been among the outstanding events on the school calendar. With a membership comprised of all of the Seminary and Pre-Seminary men, Sem Forum provides social fellowship as well as mental and devotional inspiration among the theological students.

Under the leadership of Jim Anderson, the Seminary men have enjoyed a variety of interesting and thought provoking meetings during the past year. Meeting once each month, the group covered subjects ranging from an illustrated lecture on modern Palestine to a talk on "What I Would Do if I Were a Seminary Student Today," by the Rev. Herbert Palmquist. At the November meeting a faculty panel discussed and answered questions on the intricacies of the new Bachelor of Divinity program and its relation to present and future students. One of the Spring programs centered around the theme of missions, while another featured a panel discussion of the proposed Covenant constitution. A highlight of each meeting was the coffee and social time which followed.

Seminary Forum is administered by an Executive Board composed of one member from each Seminary class and one Pre-Seminary sophomore. This year's Board consisted of James Anderson, senior, president; Rolland Larson, middler, vice-president; Donald Lindman, junior, secretary; and Charles Weborg, college sophomore, treasurer. Dean Eric Hawkinson and Prof. Donald Frisk served as faculty advisers.

The Religious Education Fellowship is an organization for promoting an interest in Christian Education as a full-time vocation. Speakers for the meetings are usually home or foreign missionaries, parish workers, social workers, or faculty members.

The club officers this year under the leadership of Miss Alva Johanson are: Marilyn Johnson, president; Marolyn Carlson, vicepresident; Carolyn Nyquist, secretary; and Carolyn Johnson, treasurer.

The dual purpose of the Lutheran Student Association was to gain further understanding of the denomination and various world religions, and to provide Christian fellowship. The regular meetings featured student discussion topics like "What is a Catholic?" and "How Protestantism Began." One program included a dynamic talk by one of the local ministers on "What is a Lutheran?" and slides from Europe by Barbara Burmeister, the ex-president of LSA.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Linnea Sandgren, Patricia Link, president; Patricia Harju, vice-president; and Gloria Hall, secretarytreasurer, the club maintained an interesting program.

MISSIONARY VOLUNTEERS

Missionary Volunteers is one of the oldest organizations on North Park Campus. Anyone interested in missions is welcome in this club. Many members are candidates for home and foreign missions, but the majority recognize their need of becoming missions-minded right at home. "Ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth," speaks to all Christians.

Meetings were held the first Monday evening of each month. The speakers were missionaries who presented the needs as well as the accomplishments of missions. The third Monday evening of each month a group went to the Industrial League Mission to sing and testify. Every Thursday morning a "Prayer for Missions" was conducted, and everyone was invited to join in prayer for missions around the world. A highlight of the year was the annual M. V. Banquet. This year Dr. Eugene A. Nida of the American Bible Society was our speaker.

political club

In this day of the need for growing political awarness, the Political Club has tried to stimulate its members' interest in this direction by discussions of pertinent affairs, both national and international. Besides these informative, informal discussions, we have also tried to broaden our understanding through field trips. The first was an interesting tour of the County jail and the Courthouse. Probably the outstanding event for those who attended, was the mock UN assembly for college students at Madison, Wisconsin.

The officers elected to help carry out this program were Gordon Williams, president; William Moody, vice-president; Shelley Sturdy, secretarytreasurer; Dean Sallas, publicity chairman; and Leila Raulston, social chairman.

psychology club

Were you there?

In order to supplement classroom study and nurture interest in a very important science, the Psychology Club was formed. This year, with Dr. Peter P. Person as its advisor and sponsor, it was one of the largest and most active clubs on the campus.

This year the Club's activities were planned and directed by Richard Pixler, president; Carol Christiansen, vice president; Carolyn Wiberg, secretary; and Richard Dahl, treasurer. These activities included motion pictures, lectures, discussions, and field trips.

The highlights of the year were a lie detector demonstration, a hypnosis exhibition, and a field trip to Dunning State Hospital.

The long-range objective of the Club has been to foster a better understanding of the reason people act or react as they do in a given situation. With the belief that with this understanding people would be able to approach each circumstances, in college and in later life, with a new perspective.

melophonics club

The Melophonics Club, composed primarily of music majors, endeavored to bring more appreciation of good music not only to members of the Music School but also to other interested persons. This was accomplished by obtaining information about recitals, concerts and operas, encouraging club attendance at these events, and serving at school events.

The Spring Music Festival, an annual event in which many of the members participate, is supported by the Melophonics Club.

This year the club was led by Jean Nicoletti, president; Carol Norman, vice president; Lynne Petke, secretary; and Arvida Mattson, treasurer.

north park college choir

The North Park College Choir is a primary proponent of culture, worship, and service on the campus.

A most satisfying contribution this year resulted from a new policy to provide finer and more varied music in College Chapel services. Talent selected from the Choir was rehearsed in small groups to provide anthems and other works as a part of the general music for Chapel. The Choir itself appeared once a week, and sang special music for festive seasons.

The tedium of long rehearsals was forgotten during the tour to the Middle East and New England. High points of the trip included two days spent in the New York City area. Boat trips around Manhattan Island, visits to the United Nations building and Rockerfeller Center, and inspection of ocean liners in port occupied the time of the singers. Many friends were won for North Park and Christian education. The greatest thrill was inspired audiences at the concert.

The annual concert in Orchestra Hall completed the first decade of this tradition. In 1947 Dean Ohlsen reassembled his complete choir upon the return of the thirty-eight member tour group. At the suggestion of President Algoth Ohlson, plans had been made for the first concert at Orchestra Hall. The responsibility for ticket sales and promotion has been assumed by the First District Central Conference Covenant Women's Auxiliary.

The annual formal dinner party at the Hotel Georgian in Evanston, Illinois was held May 19. The elected officers in charge were Charles Meyer, president; Mary Jo Bengtson, vice-president; Marilyn Peterson, secretary; Stanley Edin, treasurer; and Leslie Pearson and Rogene Bragg, historians.

festival chorus

Each year during the Christmas season the beautiful strains of Handel's Messiah draw a curtain around the secular world and open for North Parkers a door which leads to a fuller, more spiritual appreciation of the meaning of Christmas.

The Festival Chorus, which rehearses every Monday evening, is composed of members of the College Choir, alumni of the choir, students in the college and seminary, and nurses from the Swedish Covenant Hospital.

Under the inspiring direction of Dean Donald Ohlsen, the Festival Chorus presented the Messiah December 13 as a part of the Tuesday Evening Series, and the Seven Last Words on Palm Sunday. Both were held at the North Park Covenant Church.

college quartet

The College Quartet, aside from the Christian service it performs, is one of the best "advertisement" media that North Park has at its disposal. The quartet, selected by the Dean of the School of Music, sang in various Covenant Churches and at numerous school functions. The year was highlighted by the musical programs that it presented in the twin cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

This summer, the four singers will tour the East with Timothy Johnson as their accompanist. They are going with the hope of creating a larger-scale interest in the advancement of the Gospel and North Park.

secretarial club

The Secretarial Club is composed of girls who are interested in the secretarial field as a profession.

Some type of activity is planned for each month, formal or informal. The annual Smorgasbord was held in December offering food, fun, and "flickaship" and a grab bag for all. Various field trips have been taken during the year, and parties have been enjoyed by the girls. Films have been shown relating to different aspects of the business world. The year's activities were concluded with the annual spring dinner.

Club activities were enthusiastically participated in by its sponsor, Miss Debora Carlson, and the officers: Lois Bengtson, president; Marjorie Anderson, vice president; Elsa Anderson, secretary; and Corinne Larson, treasurer.

The North Park College football team ended a rugged campaign with a 1-win, 7-loss record. This was not the best record ever compiled by a Viking team, but this doesn't tell the entire story.

Even though it was outclassed most of the season by weight advantage and reserve strength, the team never relinguished its fighting spirit. The enthusiasm of North Park cheering, generated by the cheerleaders, kept the team "keyed-up" and spirited at crucial moments. The fact that not one of its losses was humiliating proves that the Vikings were in there "giving it everything they had."

The team was fairly well-balanced this year, with a fastmoving backfield and a hard-charging line. It had the potential of a well-cordinated team which was realized during parts of the season, especially in the game with Concordia College on October 8. Through a display of running power and ball control, the Vikings marched to a thrilling 14 to 8 victory.

The highlight of the football season was the Homecoming game, on October 2, with the LaSalle-Peru Apaches.

The end of the third quarter saw North Park in the lead 7 to 6. The team's drives were sparked by good blocking and the brilliant running and passing of Mike Paull and Bruce Erickson. The fourth quarter, though, spelled the doom of the North Parkers as the powerhouse team from

LaSalle-Peru picked up a touchdown and rolled to a 13 to 7 victory.

Captain Roy Larson, though sidelined most of the season with a head injury, assisted the team in many aspects. His encouraging words, decisive pointers, and allaround leadership ability partly made-up for the team's loss of an outstanding lineman.

Because of his good quarterbacking and solid defensive play, Bruce Erickson was given the "Most Valuable Player" award. The team this year was not built around a few star players; rather, it was an 11-man team throughout the season with each man sharing activities of the team. As far as speculations are concerned, we will have to wait until next season when the North Park football team will again invade the gridiron with John Kline and Dale Matson as its co-captains.

The 1955-56 edition of the North Park College basketball five carried on in fairly good style the school tradition of flooring good representative teams.

They ended the campaign with a respectable 13 win and 9 lost record, with a 5 and 5 Conference record which was good enough for a fifth place berth. Unlike the championship teams that have been developed at North Park in the past, this year's squad played sharp, "heads-up" ball rather spasmodically, at the same time giving their many followers much to cheer about.

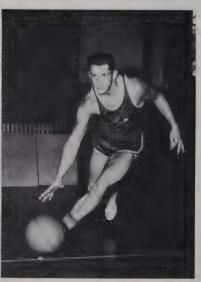

The Viking cagers began the season rather slowly, picking up momentum after the first quarter of the schedule as they outplayed their opponents in chalking up seven straight victories. For the remainder of the season, though, they played under .500 and dropped a couple of places in the league standings. Park averaged 78.5 points per game while the opposition penetrated their defensive strategy to pour 76.9 points through the hoops.

The North Park hoopsters' attack was spearheaded by two of the finest guards in the Conference — Captain Jim White-field and Dwight "Wiggie" Person. They led the team in scoring and displayed good leadership, floor work, and playmaking. The scoring punch was well balanced as Whitefield, Person, Holmquist, and Wicklund led with 332, 290, 284, and 231 points respectively. The loss of Person at mid-term was deeply felt as the team fell into a moderate slump.

The fans experienced some unforgettable excitement as the Vikings played in a number of close games during the season. The two big moments were the vitcories over Thornton, 98 to 96 and Wilson, 86 to 85. Two disheartening moments were the two losses to Wright, 61 to 59 and 68 to 67. The big consolation of these two games was the fact that Wright was ranked fourth in the entire nation.

The 1955-56 team possessed a great deal of potential and with a few more breaks and fewer costly errors, the season would have ended on a slightly different note. Coach Wilbur "Bibbs" Anderson guided the team well and made use of the entire 13-man squad, in order to find the best possible combination.

North Park College is proud of a team which produced thrills and displayed fine competitive spirit and sportsmanship on the baseball court throughout the season.

With victories over University of Illinois and Trinity, the girls' basketball team, led by Captain Kay Goldenstein started out the year with vigor. Though the Waves, Wheaton and University of Chicago defeated them in hard-fought games, that did not dampen their spirits. Coached by physical education instructor, Miss Rose Ann Nelson, the girls enjoyed the season not only for the enjoyment of the teamwork, but also for the opportunity to visit many of our neighboring schools.

seminary basketball

The sports program at North Park College would not be complete without a Seminary basketball team. This year the Seminary floored both an "A" and a "B" team. Every league night the "B" game would precede the clash between the "A" teams. They performed in the Inter-Seminary League of the Chicago area. The "A" team finished the season winning five while dropping seven, good enough for fourth place in the seven team league. The "B's" didn't fare as well as they ended with a four and eight won-and-lost record, placing them in the fifth place in the league standings

Jim Tamte and Les Pearson were the key men in developing and leading both teams this past year. Jim was co-captain of the "A's" and coach of the "B" team, while Les coached and co-captained the "A" squad. Les was also the high scorer and most valuable player.

Bob McNaughton, Roger Nelson, Dave Kjell, Marvin Wickstrom, and Bob Heicher rounded out the "A" team. The "B" squad consisted of Jim Silver, Warren Anderson, Arthur Peterson, Willis Adell, Donald Lindman, Dick Lundstrom, Carl Nylline, Loren Anderson, Dolan Rundquist, Wally Protts, and Chris Larson. Ray Anderson served the teams faithfully all season as scorekeeper.

The teams didn't add anything to the trophy case, but it was the fine Christian spirit that was shown both on and off the basketball floor that counted, and not so much the matter of how many games were won or lost.

baseball

Hopes are high for another good season as five lettermen from the 1955 squad are returning, in addition to some bright freshman prospects.

Coach Wilbur "Bibbs" Anderson is building the team of which the nucleus is Russ Gotberg, Erwin Bugby, Paul Peterson, Jim Whitefield, and Dick Wuertzer.

Good pitching and consistent hitting enabled North Park to finish the 1955 season winning seven and dropping four. Their conference record was four and three, placing them in fourth place.

track

The 1956 cindermen began loosening their muscles and practising their strides, early in March, in preparation for the A.A.U. meet at the U. of C. and the Daily News Relays, later in the month.

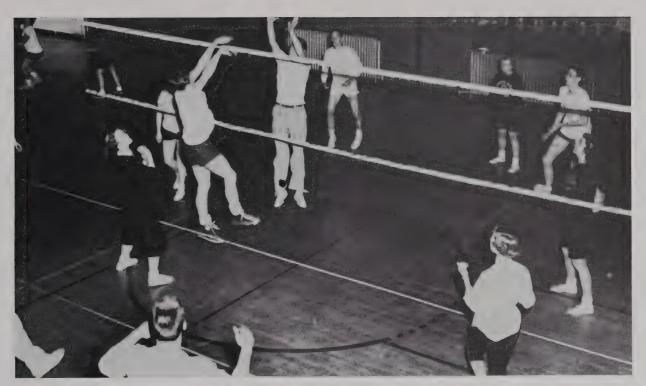

North Park will participate in seven more meets before all of the track squads compete in the all important Conference Meet. This is what determines standings; North Park placed third in this meet in 1955 and thus ended the season in third place in the conference.

The three returning lettermen and their events are: Gordy Gotberg, pole vault, high jump, and hurdles; Bill Conant, two-mile; and Ron Davis, one-fourth and one-half mile events.

As materials centers, our campus libraries provide books, periodicals, pamphlets, documents, maps and other materials to meet our curricular needs and our co-curricular interests under a program professionally planned and administered.

As reading centers they provide stimulating and worthwhile recreational reading materials, give individual reading guidance, stimulate the growing interest in books and reading by means of displays, exhibits and other campus publicity.

As teaching agencies they give instruction in the use of books and libraries, assist us in our search for information through the maze of reference books and indexes of all kinds.

Recent additions to the library services have been a microfilm reader in the Seminary Library, and a Religious Education Laboratory, a materials center for work with children up to twelve years of age. The Seminary Building also houses the Historical Collection of the Evangelical Mission Covenant Church, of which Mr. E. Gustav Johnson is the Archivist.

women's residence hall

An election is held each year in the Women's Residence Halls to elect a Council representing the three women's dormitories. The function of the Council is to plan firesides and other social events sponsored by the Council. They also discuss various problems which concern the women's dormitories. The council meets twice a month. Highlight of the year was dorm formal, Snow Symphony, which was held January 21.

The council consists of a president from Sohlberg Hall, a vice-president from Caroline Hall and once from Hjerpe House, a treasurer a record keeper, a worship chairman, and four committee chairmen.

The members of the Council are as follows: Sig Rafos, President; Dorothy Starn and Elaine LeVahn, vice-presidents; Marilyn Peterson, treasurer; Darlene Tell, keeper of records; Adele Schneider, worship chairman; Diane Holmes, program chairman; Carol Christianson, social chairman; Nadia Johnson, refreshment chairman; Elaine Gustafson, Donna Jean Johnson, decoration chairmen.

nu pi delta

One of the many new experiences of being a freshman is that of being a part of one of the active clubs on campus. The Nu Pi Delta girls really caught on to the spirit of friendliness and cooperation by making a float for the Homecoming celebration, sponsoring a booth at the annual Sadie Hawkin's Day, and sending CARE packages to Korea as a Christmas project.

The success of the freshman club was largely due to the guidance of Miss Alice Pearson, faculty member, and president Dorothy Shoemaker, vice-president, Karla Johnson, secretary, Janet Anderson and treasurer, Carola Brandel.

gamma

Gamma, a club for sophomore girls, has been characterized by a great deal of enthusiasm, which is evident by the very active program planned by the girls for this year. Among the activities were making a float for Homecoming, helping with the sale of mums, and holding a p.j. party at Joanne Beran's home. The girls were continually planning many service, social and fun-filled activities.

Credit for this year's success should be given to Miss Ramgren, faculty advisor; president, Robin Johnson; vice-president, Ellen Greengard; secretary, Bonnie Semler; and treasurer, Sandra Swanson.

Though the last girls club, Alpha was by no means the least. It was one of the most active organizations on campus. The club did much to contribute to the spirit of Homecoming by selling mums and making a float. At the Sadie Hawkins' Day party the girls sponsored the marriage booth and at Christmas sponsored a party for an orphanage.

President Nina Nielander, vice-president Maredith Michel, secretary Catharine Erie, treasurer Adrienne Bergstrom, and chaplain Barbara Gustafson, with the help of Miss Jean Lundstedt, faculty advisor, led Alpha during the 1955-1956 school year.

beta

All junior girls were eligible for membership in Beta. The girls enjoyed an active, well-filled year of service, social and spiritual activities under the excellent leadership of their faculty advisor, Miss Ruth Lundahl, and officers: Debbie Webster, president; Ann Johnson, vice-president; Nancy Mulder, secretary; Caroline Schwegler, treasurer; and Connie Bauerlein, chaplain.

The selling of mums and the presentation of a skit at the Sadie Hawkins' Day party were among their projects that were enthusiastically supported. At the end of the year the girls of Beta look back with satisfaction on their accomplishments.

tri-hi-y

Omega Tri-Hi-Y, affiliated with the YMCA, is a club for girls in all four classes. The girls were kept busy at Homecoming with mums, a float, and a throne for our "royalty". A chapel program, dinner-date party, bowling and an "I Love Paris" party were a few of their activities.

Upholding the motto "to create, maintain, and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character" were the officers; Judy Balder, president; Barbara Kuehn, vice-president; Judy Bohnert, corresponding secretary; Julie Mueller, recording secretary; Paula Schlundt, treasurer; Ann Larson, chaplain and the sponsor, Mrs. R. Johnson.

The Girl's Athletic Association is one of the fastest growing organizations on campus. G.A.A. letters are awarded on a point system to all active participants.

One of the highlights of the year was the overnight camping trip to the Illinois State Dunes in the fall.

Selling mums and making a float for Homecoming, making dolls at Christmas and baskets at Easter for orphanages were just a few of their many activities.

They were capably led by Miss Rose Ann Nelson, sponsor; Bonnie Stocking, president; Susan Douglass, secretary; and Sally Reid, treasurer.

The name of North Park's official lettermen's club is the "Blue and Gold Club". The club meets on Thursday mornings and has about thirty regular members. Any Junior or Senior making his letter or having a sincere interest in sports may join.

Among the services Blue and Gold performs are printing programs for football and basketball games

Though relatively new, the Swim Club is gaining in importance every year. Members have "free swim" until mid-December, when the tryouts for the annual Water Show begin.

and publicizing these contests by means of posters. Another well-known project was the selling of pencils with the season's basketball schedule on them. The pencils went fast with Bob Burman as president, Lael Johnson as vice-president, and Jim Fox as secretary-treasurer directing the operations.

The club was sparked by Barbara Alexander, president; Sandra Swanson, vice-president; Sally Reid, secretary; Wayne Francis, treasurer; and Miss Rose Ann Nelson, sponsor.

drama club

This year the drama club was a very active and busy organization on campus. Open only to the Juniors and Seniors, the club was under the competent and capable leadership of Miss Betty Nelson.

The club was organized so that those interested in dramatics could get some experience in acting as well as in working behind the scenes. The club also helps train talent that is invaluable in the production of the Senior and Christmas plays.

Working together in producing plays can prove to be a valuable and rich experience.

choir

Have you ever heard music as you were walking by Hanson Hall at about 1:15? If you did it was our Academy Choir rehearsing. They have experienced a good year under the patient direction of Mrs. Janet Helin. This was Mrs. Helin's first year in directing the choir and she has done a fine job.

There were thirty-five persons singing in the choir. Occasionally they sang as a whole for chapel but more often an ensemble of members sang. On Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays the choir rehearsed together and on Tuesdays and Thursdays there were sectional rehearsals.

The highlights of the year were the annual Christmas Concert given at the Museum of Science and Industry and the annual Spring Music Festival.

hi-crusaders' club

One of the largest on campus, the Hi-C Club is a great spiritual force at N.P.A.

Meetings, held every Thursday, included guest and student speakers, panel discussions and films.

Special events during the year were a progressive dinner, hayride and an all-school Halloween party. The high spot on the Hi-C calender was a retreat at Covenant Harbor, where many were blessed.

The Spanish Honor Society, with Mrs. Ruth Johnson as faculty advisor, has more members this year than ever before. To be a member of the society a student must have a "B" average for one year and a 6-week period the following semester.

The Spanish Honor Society sponsors "El Ojo", the Spanish newspaper. There is one edition a semester. It is written by students from the spanish classes and the co-editors are Nancy Vann and Pat Blake.

The biggest event of the year is the annual banquet, La Fiesta. Genuine Spanish food is served and much of the program is given in Spanish.

The officers are: Alice White, President; Barbara Benjamin, Vice-President; Nina Nielander, Secretary; Nancy Vann, Treasurer; and Kendall Douglas, Banquet Chairman.

The North Park chapter of the National Latin Honor Society is a very active organization for Latin students.

To become a member a grade of "B" or above for the first semester and six weeks of the second semester is required. A prson must maintain this "B" average to remain.

The Latin Honor Society sponsors the annual Latin banquet, where all Latin students arrive fully clad in togas and eat on tables eight inches from the floor. A program of Roman entertainment follows.

The society also sponsors a Latin contest which offers national competition and is open to all Latin students.

In May a formal tea is held for the parents of students, at which time new members are brought in and officers are installed. The society is capably led by Miss K. Leach, sponsor; Paul Erickson, president; Pat Jenkins, vice-president; Joanne Purcell, secretary; Kay Hanau, treasurer and Diane Houlberg, social chairman.

national honor society

The North Park chapter of the National Honor Society is one of the most highly respected organizations on campus. In order to be elected to this Society, you must be of junior or senior standings, and maintain a high scholastic average and show qualities of leadership, service, and character.

The Society's main projects for the year were ushering at the Tuesday Evening Series in the spring and fall, and selling the student directories, under the guidance of the Faculty Sponsor, Miss Linnea Backlund.

The officers for the fall semester were: Lael Johnson, President, Nancy Vann, Vice-President, Nina Nielander, Secretary, Ed Ericson, Treasurer; and Bob Hyland, Social Chairman. For the spring semester the officers were: Nancy Vann, President; Ed Ericson, Vice-President, Paula Schlundt, Secretary, John Niehoff, Treasurer; and Joyce Mullery, Social Chairman.

Standing: D. Johnson, T. Anderson, J. Niehoff, J. Valentine, J. Erickson.

religious council

Representing the school's religious activities is the Student Religious Council. The purpose of the organization is to minister to the spiritual needs of students and to direct the off-campus religious activities.

There are sixteen members of the council, one elected from each counselling group. They are led by Edward Erickson, president; Doris Benson, vice-president; Judy Spitz, recording secretary; Maredith Michel, corresponding secretary and Chaplain Erickson as faculty sponsor.

The group usually meets once a month and plans a chapel service for every other week. One such program was presented during Brotherhood week depicting a radio broadcast. This year the council has undertaken the job of writing a constitution so that they may function more efficiently.

Seated: D. Benson, C. Linden, J. Spitz, C. Jonas, S. Douglas, V. Lundbom, L. Ehrenborg, M. Michel, K. Yell.

Standing: E. Ericson, F. Niehoff.

Doris Benson, Vice-President; Paul Erickson, Treasurer; Joanne Purcell, Recording Secretary; Robert Hyland, President; Sharon Franks, Corresponding Secretary.

student council

Each Tuesday morning at 8:00 you will see students hurrying to Hanson hall to a Student Council meeting. The Student Council is the "mouthpiece", so to speak, of the academy students. Here is the place to bring suggestions to improve campus activities or promote new ideas. Many questions arise among the students about procedures or rules and they bring them to this governing body.

Representatives are elected each April by counseling groups and meet once a week to discuss school problems and any new ideas that may come up. These representatives then report back to their counseling groups what they have done at the meeting.

This year's Student Council has undertaken many projects, such as an all-school Talent Show, Roller Skating Parties and a CARE project. The teams can thank the Student Council for bringing many spectators to games that they could not have attended without chartered buses. College day is another big activity planned by the Student Council. This year a new system of electing class officers and Student Council officers was set up.

The success of the council must be accredited a great deal the leadership of Dean Clifford Swenson, sponsor; Bob Hyland, president; Doris Benson, vice-president; Joanne Purcell, recording secretary; Sharon Franks, corresponding secretary and Paul Erickson, treasurer.

Frank Dietschak, Sports Editor; Mr. Johnson, Faculty Advisor; Robert Hyland, Editor.

The other student publication is the North Park News. The Academy's two pages are of interest to all. Bob Hyland, our editor sparked his page with humerous brain fortifiers and unusual editorials. Much credit should be given him for simply meeting deadlines, pushing the rest of the staff to write-write-write and for thinking up the articles. Frank Dietschak, the sports editor, gave us the up-to-date articles reviewing members of the team, how the teams were faring and even a few biased editorials. Working with him were Ed Kimbrell and Robert Houdek.

Writers for the other sections include Maredith Michel, Kris Ellis, Joyce Mullery, Jane Lefler, Barry Larson, Kurt Olsson, Rodney Johnson, and Tom Forsberg.

With a great amount of cooperation and willingness to work the paper came out successful. This is shown by the member of the student body seen walking about engrossed in reading the paper every other Wednesday afternoon.

Many thanks go to Mr. E. Gustav Johnson for his cheerfulness and superb guidance without which the paper would not have survived.

team of 55

As the 1955 North Park Academy football team trotted off the field after their last game . . . after they had dressed in full uniform for the last time, they only had vivid memories of the important plays and hard practice sessions to remind them of the fun and fellowship they shared during those two months. All of them will remember the want of experience at the beginning of the season and how Coach Hedstrand worked them until they felt like they were ready to whip the world. It will be a long time before they forget the loss of three starting men by the first game; John Corrigan, Lael Johnson and Frank Dietschak.

Plagued by continuous injuries, Coach relied on Captain Jim Matson to point the way to victory. Long to be remembered was the silence just before the team took the field . . . and the stirring talks at half-time by Coach.

Some of the unforgetable memories that we hold in our minds are; the great season opener . . . Fox's amazing catches . . . the heart-breaking defeats at the hands of North Shore and Wheaton . . . those rainy day practices . . . Matson's crushing tackles . . . the pep rallies . . . the Homecoming crowd . . . those many injuries . . . Hyland's fine defensive work . . . Greller's grim determination . . . the tears and fears . . . the final whistle that ended the season.

Coach Ted Hedstrand can well be proud of his 1955-56 Vikings. Although the final standings showed North Park in third place this isn't a true picture of the strength of the team. Our hoopsters closed the season with a 9-3 record. They ended strongly winning eight of their last nine conference games but this was not enough to offset the slow beginning.

This year the PSL was the strongest it has ever been and the talent was more evenly divided between the teams than in some years. With Ralph Johnson, Lael Johnson, Bruce Freshwater, Chuck Greller, and Ed Ericson comprising the starting five NP had the edge in height over any team in the league and the rebound tallies showed it.

Despite a brain concussion incurred during the football season Captain Lael Johnson recovered quickly enough to do a superb job of leading the team. Ralph Johnson, an all-conference selection, was the leading scorer and was voted the most valuable player by his team-mates.

Even though our fine team didn't do as well as everyone knows it could have the players and fans will always remember . . . "Bootie's" 62-foot shot . . . Ralph's consistent scoring . . . "Eddie My Love's" terrfic drive and determination . . . the evening practices . . . the "mascot" . . . RD's spark . . . the Glenwood rout . . . Illiana's locker room . . . the "Sharp-shooting forward" . . . Flaherty's falling down . . . the bitter disappointment of losing the first tournament game making the end of the 1955-56 basketball season.

'55-'56 frosh-soph

The school may well be proud of this years frosh-soph basketball team. They finished the season with the same conference record as the varsity, nine wins and three losses. Ably coached by Mr. Len Benson the team took third place in the frosh-soph league.

The leading scorer of the team was Chris Norborg. The other mainstays of the team were Rodney Johnson, Gil Olander, Jim Barksdale, Wes Polender, and Loren Anderson.

The sophomores should be a good addition to next year's varsity.
